Numb. 1715

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 17. 1740.

No. 1713.

To RALPH FREEMAN, Esq;

SIR,

Exon, Dec. 9, 1740. Have seen this Day an excellent Pamphlet, entituled, A Letter to a Member of Parliament, concerning the State of Affairs, &c. I wish it might be read, and impartially weighed, by every Person in the Kingdom. I think a great many Thanks are due to the Author of it. As it answers the Popular Outcry against Placemen, I was willing to send you the following Dialogue, occasioned by an Address said to be presented by the Chamber of this City to Sir H—— N——e on that Subject.

I am, SIR, Your's,

EXONIENSIS.

A DIALOGUE between Two Neighbours, Chremes and Amynior: Occasioned by an Address printed in Farley's News-Paper, Nov. 14. and said to be presented to Sir H——y N——e, Bart. by the Chamber of Exeter.

Chremes.

AMYNTOR, I am glad to see you: Have you read the Address printed this Day in Farley's News-Paper, said to be presented by the Chamber of Exeter to Sir H—y N——e.

Amynior. Yes, Chremes, I have; and thought it somewhat odd, to see a Mayor, Aldermen, and Common-Council, presenting an Address to a Baronet.

Chr. I think it more odd, to see twenty or thirty out of fifteen hundred Electors, to take it upon them to REQUIRE our Common Representative to vote in Parliament as they shall direct.

Am. Very true, Chremes; and especially if we consider that these very Gentlemen, notwithstanding all their Outcries against Incroachments upon our Liberties, have discover'd of late too much of an imposing, tyrannical Spirit in several Instances; particularly, a little before the Election of the present Mayor, they voted at different Times several Lists for Honorary Freemen, one of which consisted of a hundred and thirty-three.

Chr. I defy any of them to produce an Instance, wherein the present Administration hath struck so much at the Liberty of the Subject, as those who in this Address would be thought so exceeding tender of it.

Am. 'Tis with an ill Grace these Gentlemen appear in the Cause of Liberty, who make it too evident, that were they at the Helm they would not stick, with their old Friends in a late Reign, to make Lords by Dozens, and oppress and persecute every one that doth not think as they do.

Chr. They seem too, mighty zealous against Placemen; but, I doubt, the true Reason is, because they are not of the Number. The D. of A——e, and Mr. ——, had no Complaints of this Nature to make, till they themselves were displac'd.

Am. I must own, 'I am not for giving the Government an uncontrouled Liberty of having what Number of Placemen they please in Parliament, neither have they. There's no Placeman can sit in the House, till he be chosen, as such, by the People.

Chr. I can't see what we can expect more. It would be an Infringement of our Liberty were we rendered incapable of chusing a Person that was the most likely to promote our Interest, merely because the Government thought fit sometimes to employ him.

Am. After all the bitter Invectives that have been vented against the present Ministry, I don't find any illegal Conduct prov'd against 'em. There are several Instances wherein they have lessen'd the Prerogative, but not one wherein they have lessen'd the Liberty of the Subject.

Chr. No, 'tis mostly groundless Slander. Nay, 'twas but a few Days before the Fleet sail'd to the West Indies, that a leading Gentleman of the discontented Party, and one who, 'tis thought, had a great hand in drawing up the Address) asserted, with great Assurance, that it was never intended the Fleet should sail at all.

Am. Aspersions of this Nature are endless. They oppose the Impressing of Men, and discourage them from Inlisting, and yet complain because the Fleet is not in Action. They send Intelligence to our Enemies of the sailing of our Ships, and where they may be met with; and then complain because they are taken. If a Ship be taken three or four hundred Leagues off, they have had the Assurance to affirm it to have been at home, upon our own Coasts.

Chr. There's one thing more worth your Notice in this Address: They would have his Majesty's Government established on the unfeigned and universal Affection of a free People. I wish they would give him their Affections, to begin with.

Am. His Majesty hath but poor Incouragement to rest on this Prop, when he sees with what Violence all his Measures are opposed, how maliciously they are misrepresented, and the Windows of the General Post-Office, and even of Houses near his own Palace, broken, because they did not think fit, at the Command of the Mob, to celebrate the Birth-day of a Subject in the same Manner as they did that of their Prince.

Chr. It grieves me greatly to see the Heats and Divisions there are amongst us at a time, when there should be the strictest Unanimity and Concord; and all from the Resentment of two or three discontented Statesmen. This necessarily tends to dishearten our Friends, and animate and encourage our Enemies.

Am. Oh how happy should we be, Chremes, if all Party Distinctions were laid aside; and if, instead of biting and devouring one another, we could but unite our Endeavours to suppress Vice and Immorality, to prosecute the War with Vigour abroad, and heal all our Divisions at home, and to procure an extensive, flourishing Trade. 'Tis a noble Motto which the Dutch place over their Stadthouse; Concordia res parvæ crescunt, Discordia res maximæ dilabuntur.

Copenhagen, Nov. 29. N. S.

ON the 26th in the Afternoon, the King and Queen of Denmark, with the rest of the Royal Family, in several Coaches, set out from Fridericksberg, and proceeded to the new built Palace in this City. The chief Officers of the Court, the Gentlemen of the Bedchamber, and the Pages, attended them on Horseback, the ordinary Livery Servants on Foot; Detachments of the Guards were properly interspersed, and all the Cannon upon the Ramparts of the Town and Citadel, as well as those of the Fleet, fired three Rounds. In this Manner their Danish Majesties took Possession of that very large and magnificent Edifice, which, tho' yet unfinished, has by incessant Labour, and at a vast Expence, in much less Time than was thought possible, been brought into a Condition of receiving the Court. The 27th, being Sunday, a new Chapel adjoining to the Palace, and suitable to its Magnificence, was opened with Musick, Sermons, and Discharges of Cannon, at which the whole Court assisted. The Birth-days of their Danish Majesties have for some Years passed by without being taken notice of at Court; but as the new Building now affords Room and Lustre fit for such sumptuous Entertainments, the Queen's Birth-day (the 28th) was celebrated with much Pomp. The Evening concluded with a very splendid Supper at their Majesties Table of Eighty Covers, to which the Foreign Ministers were invited. Count Finkenstein is hourly expected here from the King of Prussia.

Copenhagen, Dec. 3. N. S. The 30th past, the Birth day of the King of Denmark (who then enter'd upon the 42d Year of his Age) was celebrated, as that of the Queen had been before, with great Pomp and Solemnity. As it happen'd to be a Church Day, Te Deum was sung, after which the Cannon were fired, and at Supper (which was served in a magnificent Gallery illuminated with upwards of 3000 Wax Lights) every Guest found upon his Plate a large Silver Medal, bearing the King's Effigies on one Side, and a Prospect of the new Palace on the other. M. Palmstierna, the Swedish Minister, sets out this Morning for Stockholm.

AMERICA.

Charles-Town, Sept. 6. By Capt. Davis from Jamaica, we hear of Admiral Vernon's being gone to intercept the Ferrol Squadron, but was oblig'd to return to Jamaica without meeting with it, having in his Voyage met with very bad Weather, whereby his Fleet had been greatly damaged.

Charles-Town, Oct. 9. After Captain Langdon and Capt. Hall left this Place, they sail'd for the Island of Cuba; at the Southeast Part of which they enter'd a River, and sail'd up the same under the continual Fire of the Spaniards, who lay in Ambush on both Sides thereof, having receiv'd Intelligence of their coming by a small Pettiaugua which escap'd them: Capt. Langdon and Capt. Hall, notwithstanding the Fire the Spaniards made against them, sail'd 25 Miles up the said River, and took a small Schooner, which is a fine Sailer. From that River they sail'd with the Schooner, and a few Days after, in the Windward Passage, they spy'd a Sloop making towards them, for which they lay to; the Sloop still continuing her Course, came up with Capt. Langdon, upon which Capt. Langdon demanded her to strike for England, and the Master answer'd, Presently, and Capt Langdon gave him a Shot, which he return'd; whereupon Capt. Langdon gave him a Broadside, which the Sloop return'd, and Capt. Langdon gave her two more, which it seems satisfied them, for they then were pleas'd to strike to Capt. Langdon and Capt. Hall; so that they have had the Honour of being convoy'd by them into this Port.

Philadelphia, Sept. 8. The latter End of last Week and the Beginning of this, under the personal Review of the Governor, Seven Companies or Troops raised here embark'd for the West Indies with such Alacrity and Chearfulness as was scarce ever seen in the like Number of new Levies before, to the great Concern and Amazement of some who had perswaded themselves that the Expedition was chimerical; and to the Pleasure and Satisfaction of all that had the Welfare and Honour of the British Nation at heart. It is remarkable, these are the first Levies ever made in this Province.

SCOTLAND.

Edinburgh, Dec. 8. The Whale that was cast ashore last Week near Cramond, four Miles N. W. of this City, is a Male, between 50 and 60 Foot long, and 16 deep. His Mate has been seen since tumbling about above the Ferry, making a hideous Noise. Another Whale was lately cast ashore at Culross.

We hear that the Nine People who were cast away on the Frith of Tay last Week, had been at Dundee Market, and being in haste to return for Fife, would not wait the Passage-boat, but hired a Yawl, which overset with a sudden Blast of Wind.

The Embargo has, among other good Effects, obliged the Corn-factors at Berwick to sell out their Oats on hand at 11 s. Sterling per Berwick Boll, which is somewhat more than the Linlithgow Measure.

The Right Hon. my Lord Strichen arrived in Town this Morning from London.

We have had a bitter Frost, and now a great Fall of Snow.

An Infallible CURE
For Barrenness in Women, and Impotency in Men,
By Superlative ENLIVENING DROPS:
Which in a few Days render both Sexes Prolifick in a most wonderful Manner.

HUndreds of Ladies who were deem'd incurably Barren, and very many who thought themselves too old to bear Children, have immediately conceived after taking three or four Doses of them only; and vast Numbers of GENTLEMEN by taking them, have presently became capable of propagating their Species, who before, thro' either Imbecility or Age, imagin'd it impossible.

They almost instantly renovate the vital Ferment of the Blood and Juices, rectify the languid state of all the Fluids, rouse, fortify, and increase the Spirits, invigorate the Nerves, restore Animal Warmth, and cause a sparkling Gladness and ardent Courage to flow in the Heart, and expand itself thro' the whole human System, so as sensibly to enliven and invigorate all the animal Faculties, and corroborate or strengthen the whole Body, as well as the Parts appropriated to Generation, and do infallibly cure Barrenness in one Sex, and Impotency in the other, from what Cause soever proceeding, as Thousands have experienced.

They are also pleasant to take, are Cordial to the Stomach, create an Appetite, and procure a good Digestion, beyond any thing known in the World. And are to be had only at Mr. RADFORD's Toy-shop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard, in the Strand, Price 5 s. a Bottle, with Directions.

The most Delightful Fragrant TINCTURE for the Breath, Teeth and Gums.

AT once using makes the BREATH most charmingly fine, sweet, and pleasant, the Teeth perfectly white, clean and beautiful, and is the most certain Cure for the SCURVY in the Gums in the World.

It infallibly preserves the Breath, Teeth and Gums in their utmost Beauty and Perfection, if they are no Ways diseased, and if they are, immediately rectifies all their Defects, for the same Minute it is used it makes the most offensive Breath smell incomparably fine and charming, and in a short Time so effectually cures, that a disagreeable Breath will not return.

It instantly makes the blackest and most foul Teeth extreamly white and delicately beautiful; infallibly preserves them from decaying, and those a little decay'd from becoming worse; absolutely cures the Scurvy in the Gums, be them ever so inveterate, causing the Flesh to grow up to the Teeth again, when almost eaten quite away, and astonishingly fasten loose Teeth to Admiration. It is to be used but a few Drops at a Time, is exceeding pleasant, and leaves a very grateful and delectable Flavour in the Mouth.

In a Word, for most delightfully performing, and quickly curing an ill-scented Breath, for immediately making the blackest Teeth most excellently white, certainly fastning them when loose, effectually preserving them from rotting or decaying, and infallibly curing the Scurvy in the Gums, is not its Equal in the Universe, as all the Quality and principal Gentry, who use it acknowledge.

It is to be had only at Mr. Radford's Toy-shop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-yard in the Strand 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle, with Directions.

The Universal Family MEDICINE,

Still more and more fam'd, after upwards of 15 Years Success with the Publick,

Is sold by the Author's Appointment, by Mr. King, Trunkmaker, in the Poultry, near the Royal Exchange; by Mr. Martin, Hosier, at the Sign of the Duke of Cumberland, in Ormbourn Alley, near Leicester Fields; by Mr. Thomas Browne, Postmaster of Beccles in Suffolk; and by Mr. Hildyard, Bookseller in York, at 3 s. the Bottle each.

It is to be taken at any Season of the Year, and is perfectly agreeable to Young and Old, that Children take it without Trouble, as few Drops being a Dose, and so gentle, that it weakens not the weak Aged: for it is as safe and effectual Alterative, in a less Dose than, wherein Purging is necessary on the Account of the Excellence inherent in this Medicine, which is a singular Property well known to the Learned, to be in few Cathartick Medicines.

It is in particular,

A Certain and infallible Cure for the SCURVY, tho' of the longest Standing and attended with the most aggravated Circumstances (a Distemper so common to English People, that not one in a Thousand is wholly exempt from it, and great Numbers are finely afflicted with it) being a cordial Elixir, peculiarly adapted to that Disease in all its Forms of appearing, from the slightest acidity of Humour in the Blood, to its utmost or last Efforts on human Nature.

For it is a true Specifick Cordial, that perfectly cures that Distemper by gentle Evacuation by Stool and Urine, the only sure and effectual Way perfectly to cure the Scurvy, and prevent Relapses (notwithstanding what may be drawn to the contrary) the Truth of which is witnessed to daily, by the many Thousands that have taken this Medicine. It so powerfully rectifies the Blood and Juices, that scrofulous Cases are also speedily cured by it, and all Spots, Blotches, Pimples, &c. on the Skin, are quickly and entirely taken off, the Patients made lively and brisk, many chronick Distempers prevented, and a due State of Health secured.

It removes all Pain in the Stomach, helps Digestion, opens Obstructions, and is peculiarly serviceable to Maids inclined to, or troubled with the Green Sickness. 'Tis the best Medicine in the World to destroy Worms in Children or grown People, and prevent their Return; for it scours away all those ropy, viscid Humours which breed them in their Bowels, and is so well adapted to all Constitutions, that it is deservedly esteemed both in City and Country, the most General Family Medicine that ever was known to preserve Health, and hinders no Business or Recreation.

Good Allowance is given Wholesale by Mr. King for ready Money to Country Shopkeepers, &c. to sell again. This Medicine will keep many Years in any Climate.

The Directions given with it are large and full.
